Assuming that no Series D First Preferred Shares are sold to such institutions, the Underwriters' fee will be $7,500,000. In connection with this offering, the Underwriters may over-allot or effect transactions which stabilize or maintain the market price of the Series D First Preferred Shares at a level above that which might otherwise prevail in the open market. Such transactions, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time.

The Series D First Preferred Shares have not been and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "U.S. Securities Act") or any state securities laws and, subject to certain exemptions, may not be offered or sold within the United States or to U.S. persons. Voting Rights

The holders of the Series D First Preferred Shares shall not be entitled to notice of or to attend or to vote at any meeting of the shareholders of the Corporation unless and until the Corporation shall at any time have failed to pay dividends on the Series D First Preferred Shares equal in the aggregate to one and one-half times the annual rate or amount of dividends carried by the Series D First Preferred Shares in accordance with the terms thereof, whether or not consecutive and whether or not such dividends shall have been declared and whether or not there shall have been any monies of the Corporation properly applicable to the payment of dividends, and for such purpose such dividends shall be deemed to have accrued from day to day. Thereafter, until an amount or amounts equal in the aggregate to one year’s dividends at the annual rate or amount of dividends carried by the Series D First Preferred Shares shall have been paid thereon, the holders of the Series D First Preferred Shares shall be entitled to receive notice of all general meetings of shareholders of the Corporation and to attend thereat, other than any meetings of the holders of any other series of First Preferred Shares held separately and as a series, and shall at any such meetings which they shall be entitled to attend, except when the vote of the holders of shares of any other class or series is to be taken separately and as a class or series, be entitled to one vote in respect of each Series D First Preferred Share held by each of such holders respectively.

Rights on Liquidation

In the event of the liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the Corporation or other distribution of the assets of the Corporation among its shareholders for the purpose of winding up its affairs, whether voluntary or involuntary, subject to the prior satisfaction of the claims of all creditors of the Corporation and of holders of shares of the Corporation ranking prior to the Series D First Preferred Shares, the holders of the Series D First Preferred Shares shall be entitled to be paid and to receive an amount equal to $25.00 per Series D First Preferred Share plus declared and unpaid dividends up to and including the date of distribution before any amount shall be paid or any assets of the Corporation shall be distributed to the holders of Participating Preferred Shares, Subordinate Voting Shares or shares of any other class of the Corporation ranking junior to the Series D First Preferred Shares. After payment to the holders of the Series D First Preferred Shares of the amount so payable to them, they shall not be entitled to share in any further distribution of the assets of the Corporation.

Modification of Series

Approval of variations to the provisions of the Series D First Preferred Shares as a series and any other authorization required to be given by the holders of such shares as a series may be given by a resolution passed by an affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of the votes cast at a general meeting of the holders of Series D First Preferred Shares duly called for such purpose and held upon at least 21 days' notice at which the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of such series are present in person or represented by duly qualified proxy or, if no quorum is present at such meeting, at an adjourned meeting at which the holders of Series D First Preferred Shares then present in person or represented by proxy will form the necessary quorum.

Tax Election

The provisions of the Series D First Preferred Shares as a series require the Corporation to make an election in prescribed form pursuant to the provisions of subsection 191.2(1) of the Income Tax Act (Canada), and within the time limits provided therein, for purposes of determining the tax payable under Part VI.1 of such Act with respect to the Series D First Preferred Shares. See "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations".

RATINGS

The Series D First Preferred Shares have been given a preliminary rating of Pfd-2 n with a Stable trend by Dominion Bond Rating Service Limited ("DBRS"). Pfd-2 is the fifth highest of sixteen ratings used by DBRS for preferred shares. Preferred shares with a Pfd-2 rating are of satisfactory credit quality, and protection of dividends and principal is still substantial, but earnings, the balance sheet and coverage ratios are not as strong as Pfd-1 rated companies. The "n" designation is attached to all ratings for securities that are non-cumulative.

The Series D First Preferred Shares have been given a preliminary rating of P-2 (high) under its Canadian rating scale and BBB+ under its global rating scale by Standard & Poor's Corporation ("S&P"). A P-2 (high) rating is the fourth highest of eighteen ratings used by S&P in its Canadian national preferred share rating scale. Correspondingly, a BBB+ rating is the eighth highest of twenty-two ratings used by S&P in its Global preferred share rating scale. A preferred share rating of BBB+ indicates that the obligor has adequate capacity to meet its financial commitments. However, adverse economic conditions or changing circumstances are more likely to lead to a weakened capacity of the obligor to meet its financial commitments.

Credit ratings are intended to provide investors with an independent assessment of the credit quality of an issue or issuer of securities and do not speak to the suitability of particular securities for any particular investor. A security rating is therefore not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the rating agency.

ELIGIBILITY FOR INVESTMENT

In the opinion of Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP and Ogilvy Renault LLP, the Series D First Preferred Shares, if issued on the date hereof, would be qualified investments under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and the Regulations thereunder for trusts governed by registered retirement savings plans, registered retirement income funds, deferred profit sharing plans and registered education savings plans.

CERTAIN CANADIAN FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

In the opinion of Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, counsel to the Corporation, and Ogilvy Renault LLP, counsel to the Underwriters, the following is a summary of the principal Canadian federal income tax considerations generally applicable to a purchaser of Series D First Preferred Shares pursuant to this short form prospectus (a “Holder”) who, for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) (the “Act”), is, or is deemed to be, resident in Canada, deals at arm’s length with the Corporation, holds such Series D First Preferred Shares as capital property, is not a “financial institution” as defined by Section 142.2 of the Act or a “specified financial institution” as defined in the Act and is not affiliated with the Corporation. Purchasers who do not hold their Series D First Preferred Shares as capital property, financial institutions and specified financial institutions should consult their own tax advisors with respect to their own particular circumstances.

This summary is of a general nature only and is not intended to be, nor should it be construed to be, legal or tax advice to any particular purchaser. Accordingly, prospective purchasers should consult their own tax advisors with respect to their particular circumstances.

This summary is based upon the current provisions of the Act, the regulations thereunder, all specific proposals to amend the Act and such regulations publicly announced by the Minister of Finance prior to the date hereof (the “Tax Proposals”), and counsel’s understanding of the current published administrative policies and assessing practices of the Canada Revenue Agency (the “CRA”). This summary does not otherwise take into account or anticipate any changes in law or in the administrative policies or assessing practices of the CRA, whether by legislative, governmental or judicial action, nor does it take into account any provincial, territorial or foreign income tax legislation or considerations. No assurance can be given that the Tax Proposals will be enacted in the form proposed, or at all.

Dividends

Dividends (including deemed dividends) received on the Series D First Preferred Shares by an individual will be included in the individual’s income and will generally be subject to the gross-up and dividend tax credit rules normally applicable to taxable dividends received from taxable Canadian corporations.

Dividends (including deemed dividends) received on Series D First Preferred Shares by a corporation will be included in computing the corporation’s income and will generally be deductible in computing the corporation’s taxable income.

The Series D First Preferred Shares are “taxable preferred shares” as defined in the Act. The terms of the Series D First Preferred Shares require the Corporation to make the necessary election under Part VI.1 of the Act so that Holders will not be subject to tax under Part IV.1 of the Act on dividends received (or deemed to be received) on the Series D First Preferred Shares.

A “private corporation”, as defined in the Act, or any other corporation controlled by or for the benefit of an individual (other than a trust) or a related group of individuals (other than trusts), will generally be liable to pay a 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % refundable tax under Part IV of the Act on dividends received (or deemed to be received) on the Series D First Preferred Shares to the extent such dividends are deductible in computing its taxable income.

Dispositions

A Holder who disposes of or is deemed to dispose of Series D First Preferred Shares (including on a redemption) will generally realize a capital gain (or sustain a capital loss) to the extent that the Holder’s proceeds of disposition, net of any reasonable costs of disposition, exceed (or are less than) the adjusted cost base of such shares to the Holder. The amount of any deemed dividend arising on the redemption or acquisition by the Corporation of Series D First Preferred Shares will generally not be included in computing the Holder’s proceeds of disposition for purposes of computing the capital gain or loss arising on a disposition of such Series D First Preferred Shares (see “Redemption”). If the Holder is a corporation, any capital loss arising on a disposition of a Series D First Preferred Share may in certain circumstances be reduced by the amount of any dividends, including deemed dividends, which have been received on the Series D First Preferred Share. Analogous rules apply to a partnership or trust of which a corporation, partnership or trust is a member or beneficiary. Generally, one-half of any capital gain will be included in computing the Holder’s income as a taxable capital gain, and one-half of any capital loss may be deducted from the Holder’s taxable capital gains in accordance with the rules in the Act.

Corporations that are “Canadian-controlled private corporations” as defined in the Act may be subject to an additional refundable 6²/₃% tax on their “aggregate investment income” (which is defined in the Act to include an amount in respect of taxable capital gains but not dividends or deemed dividends deductible in computing taxable income).

Redemption

If the Corporation redeems Series D First Preferred Shares, or otherwise acquires or cancels Series D First Preferred Shares (other than by a purchase in the open market in the manner in which shares are normally purchased by any member of the public in the open market), the Holder will be deemed to have received a dividend equal to the amount, if any, paid by the Corporation in excess of the paid-up capital of such shares at such time as computed for purposes of the Act. Generally, the difference between the amount paid and the amount of the deemed dividend will be treated as proceeds of disposition for purposes of computing the capital gain or capital loss arising on the disposition of such shares. In the case of a corporate Holder, it is possible that in certain circumstances all or part of any such deemed dividend may be treated as proceeds of disposition and not as a dividend.

EXPERTS

Certain legal matters in connection with this offering will be passed upon by Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP for the Corporation and by Ogilvy Renault LLP for the Underwriters. As of October 7, 2005, the partners and associates of Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP as a group and the partners and associates of Ogilvy Renault LLP as a group, owned beneficially, directly or indirectly, less than one per cent of any class of securities of Power Corporation or any of its associated or affiliated companies.

RISK FACTORS

Investors should consider carefully the matters set forth in the sections entitled “Risk Factors” in the Corporation’s Annual Information Form dated March 22, 2005 and the following investment considerations before making a decision to purchase Series D First Preferred Shares, as well as the other information in this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein. These descriptions of risks do not include all possible risks, and there may be other risks of which the Corporation is not aware.

Holding Company Structure

As a holding company, Power Corporation’s ability to pay interest and other operating expenses and dividends and to meet its obligations generally depends upon receipt of sufficient funds from its principal subsidiaries and affiliates and its ability to raise additional capital. The likelihood that holders of the Series D First Preferred Shares will receive dividends will be dependent upon the financial position and creditworthiness of the principal subsidiaries and affiliates of Power Corporation, referred to above under “Power Corporation of Canada”. The payment of interest and dividends by certain of these principal subsidiaries and affiliates is also subject to restrictions set forth in insurance, securities and corporate laws and regulations which require that solvency and capital standards be maintained by such companies. In addition, the credit ratings assigned to, and the market value of, the securities of Power Corporation may be affected by changes in the credit ratings assigned to securities of its subsidiaries.

Operational Risks

The businesses conducted by Power Corporation’s principal subsidiaries and affiliates are subject to risks including but not limited to, competition from other businesses, dependence on key personnel and key suppliers and distributors, reliance on information technology systems, investment performance, reinsurance risk and underwriting experience of morbidity, mortality and catastrophic risk, all of which could affect the financial results of Power Corporation and the ability of Power Corporation to meet its obligations.

In addition, the failure of subsidiaries and affiliates to obtain accurate and complete information from or on behalf of their customers could adversely affect Power Corporation’s financial results.

Power Corporation may also be impacted by the ability of its subsidiaries or affiliates to complete strategic acquisitions and integrate acquisitions successfully, develop and introduce new products and services in a timely manner and respond effectively to technological changes.

Regulatory Environment

The businesses of certain of Power Corporation's principal subsidiaries and affiliates are subject to various regulatory requirements imposed by legislation and regulation in Canada, the United States, Europe and other jurisdictions applicable to insurance companies and companies providing other financial services. Material changes in the regulatory framework, the ability of the subsidiaries and affiliates to adapt their products and services appropriately and in a timely manner or the failure to comply with regulatory requirements could have an adverse effect on Power Corporation.

General Economic Conditions

Economic conditions may adversely affect the business of Power Corporation's principal subsidiaries and affiliates. Power Corporation may in particular be impacted by fluctuations in foreign exchange, inflation and interest rates, as well as consumer spending, government spending and monetary policies, business investment and the health of capital markets in Canada, the United States and Europe.

Unexpected Events

A terrorist attack, natural or environmental disaster or domestic or international conflict may adversely affect the operations and financial results of Power Corporation.

Series D First Preferred Shares

The value of Series D First Preferred Shares will be affected by the general creditworthiness of Power Corporation. Power Corporation's Management's Discussion and Analysis of Operating Results for the year ended December 31, 2004 as well as Power Corporation's Management's Discussion and Analysis of Operating Results for the three- and six-month periods ended June 30, 2005 are incorporated by reference in this section. These analyses discuss, among other things, known material trends and events, and risks or uncertainties that are reasonably expected to have a material effect on Power Corporation's business, financial condition or results of operations. See also the discussion under "Earnings Coverage Ratios", which is relevant to an assessment of the risk that Power Corporation will be unable to pay dividends on the Series D First Preferred Shares.

The market value of the Series D First Preferred Shares, as with other preferred shares, is primarily affected by changes (actual or anticipated) in prevailing interest rates and in the credit rating assigned to such shares. Real or anticipated changes in credit ratings on the Series D First Preferred Shares may also affect the cost at which Power Corporation can transact or obtain funding, and thereby affect its liquidity, business, financial condition or results of operations.

The Series D First Preferred Shares rank equally with other First Preferred Shares of Power Corporation in the event of an insolvency or winding-up of Power Corporation. If Power Corporation becomes insolvent or is wound-up, Power Corporation's assets must be used to pay debt, including subordinated debt, before payments may be made on Series D First Preferred Shares and other preferred shares.

The Series D First Preferred Shares are non-cumulative and dividends are payable at the discretion of the Board of Directors of Power Corporation. See "Details of the Offering" and "Earnings Coverage Ratios" which are relevant to an assessment of the risk that Power Corporation will be unable to pay dividends on the Series D First Preferred Shares.

Stock market volatility may affect the market price of the Series D First Preferred Shares for reasons unrelated to Power Corporation's performance.

There can be no assurance that an active trading market will develop for the Series D First Preferred Shares after the offering, or, if developed, that such market will be sustained at the offering price of the Series D First Preferred Shares.

BOOK-BASED SYSTEM

Registration of interest in and transfers of the Series D First Preferred Shares will only be made through the book-based system administered by CDS. On or about the Closing Date, the Corporation will deliver to CDS a certificate evidencing the aggregate number of Series D First Preferred Shares subscribed for under this offering. Series D First Preferred Shares must be purchased, transferred and surrendered for retraction or redemption through a participant in CDS (a “CDS Participant”). All rights of an owner of Series D First Preferred Shares must be exercised through, and all payments or other property to which such owner is entitled will be made or delivered by, CDS or the CDS Participant through which the owner holds Series D First Preferred Shares. Upon a purchase of any Series D First Preferred Shares, the owner will receive only the customary confirmation. References in this short form prospectus to a holder of Series D First Preferred Shares mean, unless the context otherwise requires, the owner of the beneficial interest in such shares.

The ability of a beneficial owner of Series D First Preferred Shares to pledge such shares or otherwise take action with respect to such owner’s interest in such shares (other than through a CDS Participant) may be limited due to the lack of a physical certificate.

The Corporation has the option to terminate registration of the Series D First Preferred Shares through the book-based system, in which event certificates for Series D First Preferred Shares in fully registered form will be issued to the beneficial owners of such shares or their nominees.

REGISTRAR AND TRANSFER AGENT

The registrar and transfer agent for the Series D First Preferred Shares will be Computershare Investor Services Inc. or its agent at its principal office in each of the cities of Montréal and Toronto.

The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser’s province for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal adviser.
